Whirlaway Completes Classic Circle Without Proving Further His Ability

AS WAS generally anticipated, Whirlaway completed the "classic" circle by taking over the Belmont Stakes.

It was a bloodless victory and while it clothed him with the aura of the American "triple crown," it added only to his winnings and his prestige. As a test of his capacities as a race horse, it went for naught. Only three other colts opposed him and the opposition they provided was so feeble that it looked little less than pusillanimous.

The rate throughout was that of selling-plateholders. With a track fast and all conditions favorable, the mile and a half was run in but 2:31, with the first half in :49 4-5 and mile in 1:39 1-5.

This is little short of farcical for alleged "classic" colts.

There are many horses running for halter-men nowadays, entered to be sold for around $1,500 to $2,000, that could perform more creditably than the field of but three colts that Whirlaway made a show of; he breezing into the lead at the half and just galloping the rest of the route to win romping by three lengths from Robert Morris, with that colt 5 lengths in front of Yankee Chance, 3rd. The fourth and last contender (?) Itabo, finished 13 lengths off the winner.

"O, lame and impotent conclusion!"

The net value of the stake to the winner was $39,770; the 2nd colt earned (?) $5,000, the 3rd $2,500 and the 4th $1,000. As breeder, as well as owner of the winner, Mr.

Juvenile Champion To *Jacopa Filly At Carter Hall

The Blue Ridge Hunt Show at Carter Hall, Saturday, June 7, brought out three distinctly impressive horses in the breeding classes, the open classes for hunters, the conformation green classes. The first of these was a thoroughbred yearling filly by *Jacopa out of Royal Chain belonging to Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Baldwin. A very lovely dark grey youngster, she stood out in a good yearling class in which Mrs. Norman Whitehouse's entry by Coq d'Esprit—Monchoir was second and a very stocky filly by Pilate—Litany of Colin MacLeod, Jr.'s was third. Royal Chain is by *Royal Canopy

George Hills' Inky Dominates Show At Sedgefield, N. C.

C. V. Henkel's Tarboy Open Jumper Champion Over Mrs. Whitney's Entire Bonne Nuit

BY NEVA MINTON

Mr. and Mrs. George Watts Hill's Inky and Balkonian completely dominated the hunter division of the Sedgefield, N. C. Horse Show on June 5-7 and were named champion and reserve respectively. The black mare, Inky, the older and more consistent of this pair, went through the show with clean, smooth performances and was topped in the conformation classes only in the thoroughbred event by Mrs. M. E. Whitney's gray stallion, Bonne Nuit. Ridden throughout by Miss Susan Fuller, she won the $300 hunter stake, the ladies', corinthian and the lightweight, her closest competition coming from the 6 entries of Mrs. Whitney and her own stablemates, Balkonian and Lucky Buck.

The hunters and jumpers were judged by J. North Fletcher of Warrenton, Va., and consisted of a choice, but small part of a fine 3-and-5 gaited saddle and walking horse show. Most of the hunter classes were shown over a wingless outside course of fair fences, including a snake fence in-and-out, which was at

Open Jumping Test To Russell Stewart At Tuxedo Show

BY ELIZABETH HARDWICKE

The two day horse show, held at Tuxedo Park, N. Y. came to a close Saturday June 7, at 7:30 P. M. Large entries in the hunter and jumper classes, and perfect June weather, made the show an unusually good one.

Cornish Hills, well known chestnut gelding, owned by Mr. and Mrs. W. Haggin Perry, Cobham, Va., and ridden throughout the show by Mrs. Perry, won the conformation hunter championship with 25 1-2 points, against 18 points scored by Lord Britain. Lord Britain was ridden by his owner, Miss Blanche Clark, Bronxville, N. Y. This was a well earned championship as Cornish Hills had been a very consistent performer during the two days of the show. He was also first in the Championship "Preliminary."

The working hunter championship went to Morton W. Smith's chestnut gelding Ballela, with Mrs. Elizabeth Correll's *Dalchoolin reserve. Ballela

Sewickley Tricolor To Deborah Rood On Silver Play

Mrs. R. K. Mellon's *Gone Away Awarded Reserve For Rolling Rock Farm

Hitherto it has been a hard trek for horses making the eastern seaboard circuits to get out to Sewickley, Pa., for the annual Allegheny Country Club Horse Show, but not now with the new "Dream Highway" Pennsylvania Turnpike, which enables horse vans to whip through the Allegheny mountains without scarcely a gear change. Miss Deborah G. Rood, of Wilmington, Del., following the Devon show, put her undefeated ladies' hunter Silver Play into a van recently acquired through the medium of these columns, and went out to the Pittsburgh area to best a fine field of championship contenders and come away with the tricolor last Saturday, at the completion of the three day show there. Mrs. Richard K. Mellon's personal hunter *Gone Away took the reserve for Rolling Rock Farms.

Thus, Silver Play, a 7-year-old son of My Play—The Bejum II, undefeated in his last 10 efforts in ladies' classes, and denied the privilege of contesting for the ladies' championship at Devon because of a peculiar

Woodfellow Proves Himself Quality Of Reading Show

BY DREW W. HIESTAND

Woodfellow again! Staged in the natural hillside and valley setting of the Sam Fry's Old Mill Farm near Reading, Pa., and sponsored by the Junior League of that city, the annual Reading Horse Show on June 6-7 produced many of the recent conformation hunter circuit contenders. The going was perfect after the Farmers' boon (aqua) of the past week.

Miss Patricia du Pont's Playfellow son upheld his reputation as a winner although closely pressed at times by Billy McCahan's bay gelding Smooth Seas, by Peace Pennant, who was awarded the reserve. Woodfellow's blue in the corinthian "Thoroughfare Challenge Trophy", gives Miss du Pont two legs on the cup. Kingculture having won in 1939. No other owner has won more than one since its inception in 1936.

The first day's hunter classes gave Miss Charlotte Ives Montgomery's grey young daughter of Roigrey,

Lechlade Jumps Down Favorite At Delaware

New Purchase Of Harry La Montagne Tops 8 Horse Field In Maiden 'Chase

Sporting the black and white colors of his new owner, Harry La Montagne, now of New York and flashing a brand new set of plates, his first set of shoes, Lechlade jumped down the favorite, F. Ambrose Clark's Bladen, then gave cards and spades to the rest of an 8 horse field to gallop the $2,000 added Delaware Spring Maiden Steeplechase and win the first jumping event of the Delaware Park meeting last Wednesday, June 11. Under a superb ride by Jockey J. Penrod, Lechlade, but recently a member of the Thomas Hitchcock string, considered the dean of steeplechasers' best 4-year-old out this season, never gave a moment's doubt as to his triumphant class.

Mr. La Montagne, an American refugee from France, where he has long campaigned steeplechasers extensively, recently decided that his somber colors, topped off with a cerise cap, should go in this country. He approached the well known and successful trainer, Oleg Dubassoff, went the limit in price and obtained Lechlade, a 4-year-old son of Royal Dancer—Mellifera, but a fortnight ago. Mr. Dubassoff immediately had the barefooted gelding shod and he went out last Wednesday to find the cushioned turf going of the Delaware Park infield precisely to his taste, fenced faultlessly, all but one slight bobble when he had his race well in hand and showed great

BY FREDERICK H. LEVIS

The 9th Annual Philadelphia Horse Show for the juniors was held at the Port Royal Farms, Sunday, June 8 near Roxborough, Pa.

Trails End Stables Top Performers At Bridlespur

For the 2nd successive year Trails End Stables, Clayton, Mo., owned by Andrew W. Johnson, of St. Louis, and Mrs. John Hemlinway, of New York, swept the Bridlespur Hunt Horse Show. This year the 6th Annual Show was held in benefit of the American Ambulance—Great Britain, on the grounds of the Bridlespur Hunt Club, near Clayton, and Gay Pete was the champion hunter and jumper as he was in 1940 and Feather Rock, his stablemate took the reserve.

August A. Busch, Jr., ex-M. F. H. of Bridlespur Hunt rode Gay Pete as he did last year. The veteran son of Blue Pete, with a great history of conformation triumphs throughout the middle-west, never performed better. The show, enjoying a real break in the weather, had Brig. Gen., Harry D. Chamberlin, of Fort Riley, Kan., down to do the judging. The General, well known in the horse world, having written many books on riding and having influenced the cavalry seat of today, took an immediate liking to the Blue Pete gelding, though placing him 2nd in the model, the 2nd class of the day, the first time that Gay Pete has come out of the Bridlespur ring in two years without a blue. His lone defeat was at the hands of Mrs. Harry Langenberg's His Royal Highness.

Gay Pete was versatile. He took the open hunters, when Abou Ben Adhem, owned by Barney Barngrove was 2nd; the handy hunters, when Edward Rowan, Jr., rode his Grasslands 2nd; and then won the Fox Hunter challenge award, presented by Miss Mary Pettus and Mrs. Julius S. W. Bates in the corinthian. Last year he had returned the blue in this to retire the former trophy put up by the same generous donors.

There were three classes in which points were awarded towards the school challenge cup, donated by Donald Scott Sharpe, now of New York. Students of the Western Military Academy, as well as many of the other young riders, won the

Frequent Speculations On Speed Of Fox Given An Answer By Malden News

BY W. NEWBOLD ELY, M. F. H.

In answer to the inquiries on speed the following figures are from the Malden News:—fox, 26 miles per hours; foxhound, 22; grey wolf, 20; jack rabbit, 28; greyhound, 30; antelope, 32. These speeds always bring up Ben Hartman's letter regarding his famous foxhound "Whizzer." "The fastest dog I ever knew was named Whizzer. In December, 1932 there came a four-inch snow. The next morning the owner of Whizzer took him to Twin Mountains. He soon found a big red-fox track and turned Whizzer loose. The dog left on the fox track so fast he just melted the snow as he went. Down at the foot of the mountain he jumped a rail fence, burnt the three top panels where he crossed, and set fire to an old sage field. Even the sound of his voice was two hundred yards behind him all the time. The fox and dog came back up the mountain and just as he passed his owner he caught the fox, but he was travelling with such speed he made three complete trips around the mountain before he could stop to kill the fox. Whizzer was so fast that in his three trips around the mountain he outran his shadow one complete circle. The last I knew of Whizzer he was at Fort Four, Arkansas, still going fast."

Fox-Hunting—An Industry. Few people realize the amount of money which is spent on foxhunting. In Great Britain for instance it was over $75,000,000 a year. There were 200 organized packs who spent £15,000,000 a year, 100,000 horses for just hunting, groom's wages £3,200,000, forage £4,160,000, shoeing £560,000, hounds £847,000, vets £320,000, sundries £423,000 plus £5,500,000 for hunt servants' wages, food, clothes, equipment subscriptions, damage claims, tailors, boot-makers, grain dealers, saddlers, hotel keepers, etc.

In America there are around 125 organized packs but in addition there are hundreds of individual fox hunters to every member of an organized pack and these individuals often have over 50 hounds apiece. So the total of money spent in America compares favorably with England, and at the rate it has grown, it is already a valuable industry to the countryside. This progress has been steady since the founder of our country hunted the gray foxes along the banks of the Potomac.

Samuel Henry's "Foxhunting is Different" shows some of this sporting side of George Washington who, "Attended a cockfight and a vestry meeting on the same day. He would go to church and enter in his diary the pious duty as performed. But he said not who the preacher was nor subject of the sermon. Foxes, hounds and hunting were matters that loomed large in his philosophy, and there is detail after detail. You cannot help loving Washington when you read his diaries, an unstudied record of day-to-day happenings. The man stands forth alive. Despite the treatment he has received at the hands of historians, who have made of him an aloof and detached god, to a fellow-lover of sport the Virginian seems a departed friend, a human and responsive character with whom he has spent many happy hours afield; for foxhunters speak the same language. In the carefree years of 1768-69-70, the Virginian planted and reaped, bred horses, experimented with the soil, ingeniously sought to devise a better plow. With meticulous detail he tells about each hunt, how long it lasted, whether the quarry was lost, denned or killed, of hounds switching from fox to deer and says they once got after a bear. Washington's spelling was rather unorthodox. An entry of Feb. 12, 1768: 'Foxhunting with Col. Fairfax. Caught two foxes.' Oct. 22, 1768 relates how he went 'a-hunting with Lord Fairfax and Col. Fairfax 'caught two foxes.' Washington's huntsman was a little Negro named Billy Lee, a former jockey, who, according to this authority, after his master died "drank himself to death."

Showing how foxhunting can make a community, the "Washington Post" thus describes Fauquier County, Virginia: "Its businessmen are as interested in the sale of farmlands and the happiness of the red fox as the businessmen of Eastern towns are in the promotion of new factories. The Chamber of Commerce, headed by George Hickman, would fight to keep smokestacks out of the country as readily as Easterners would fight to bring them in. The growth and prosperity of the country is attributed by E. S. Cox, veteran treasurer, to the low tax rate. 'We have the cheapest tax rate of any county in Virginia. It is but 86 cents on the average and in some districts it is down to 80 cents. Yet we are out of debt and have a surplus.'"

Ard Clu Top Winner At Irondequoit Show In All His Classes

BY EDWARD DICKINSON

Ard Clu, a halfbred son of *Lough Foyle owned by James S. Meisenzahl, and not exhibited between a Sunday last September and June 1 returned to the show rings on the latter date and without any extensive schooling, swept the Irondequoit Spur Club in every event in which he was entered. His first victory on the date mentioned was the class for hunters of any weight; then the open jumping was all his; then amateur jumping; knock down and out, and a trophy for the post points made throughout the show.

A class was listed for green hunters. Not one showed up. The four entries that did go into the ring were not listed beyond being named over the paging system and only one of them, Allen Dye's Thunder Pumpkins by Thunderation, the winner could by any consideration be classed as "green." The event was a middle and heavy weight class, pure and simple. From whatever angle it was judged the decisions were correct. The red went to Dr. V. J. Levy's Vee Jay.

Allen Dye's Miss Pumpkins by Northcliff won the novice jumping. I may be wrong but I'm willing to gamble that Miss Alice Barrow's Silk Moss by Seaway was the only true novice in the class. He had the 2nd. I know beyond all question that last summer as ringmaster I pinned more than three blues on one of the entries. It's things like this that take away the sport and make the shows a glory grab bag. It's things like this that are inducing some of the shows to drop their novice classes.

The show offered a horsemanship class for riders 13 and under 18 which was won by Miss Alice Barrows by a tremendous margin. She rode her Silk Moss, a beautiful thoroughbred, a gelding by Seaway that only a real horseman can anchor down—a horse that gets everyone's eye on entering the ring and keeps all those eyes, too. Miss Barrows really rode! The contestants were lined up at the far end of the ring. Those down for ribbons were sent out to ride figure eights. The only rider in the class to do this correctly, convincingly, and completely, showing exactly those things for which a figure-eight is used in the show ring, was Miss Barrows. She was superb.

The adult horsemanship classes were little of which to brag. The saddle classes were a clean-up for the stables of Dr. and Mrs. John B. Deavitt.

Frederick K. von Lambeck did a good job of judging a western class won by 13-year-old Jack Hill on his own Miss Wyoming.

Eastern Sires Get 93 Winners In Week's Races

Augury, Daughter Of *Happy Argo Garners $3,000 For Neil McCarthy At Hollywood Park

Fifty-four eastern state sires were responsible for 93 winners during the past week, from Wednesday June 4 through Tuesday, June 10, when Maryland's *Challenger II as usual led in number of winners, accounting for 7. There was one South Carolina-bred, son of Kai Feng, who succeeded in gaining a winner's purse last week; 10 from New Jersey; 25 from Maryland and 55 from Virginia, 1 from Connecticut.

Augury, that fleet bay daughter of *Happy Argo, out of Mrs. George Harrison's Blue Ridge Stud's Minnant matron, by Pennant, won the largest purse of the week for eastern breds, the one handicap, when she returned the winner of the 6 furlong $3,000 Pytho Handicap at Hollywood Park, on Saturday, June 7. This 4-year-old daughter of *Happy Argo, once holder of the Hollywood Park track for 7 furlongs, was but 3-5 off the 6 furlong mark out there, as she ran in 1:11, carrying Neil S. McCarthy's colors to beat Hysterical, who gave her 6 pounds—126. Last year Augury won $24,250 in 4 winning efforts in 14 starts. This year her winnings are already close to $10,000 in 4 triumphs.

As the Belmont Park meeting drew to a close Lazy F. Ranch's Nearsight cracked out a winning heat in a Class C handicap, for trainer O. T. Dubasoff and won $1,360. The Discovery colt, Nearsight was a prominent factor throughout, responded to urging in the stretch and held on gamely, holding Calumet Farm's Bay Carse by 1½ lengths and Milky Way Farm's Gallabadien safe by a nose more. As the fickle public heaped their Whirlaway praises, it was rather sad to see the 1940 Kentucky Derby winner, Gallabadien 3rd-best in Class C company. His trainer Roy Waldron now believes that he was just the fittest of all the runners in the 1940 Derby.

Chuckatuck Opens Closes Belmont With Triumphs

Last Four Days Bring Out 31 'Chasers In Four Good Steeplechases

The final 4 days of Belmont Park's spring meeting brought forth 31 'chasers. Winning laurels went to John Bosley Jr.'s Rougemont, Harold Talbott's Brother Jones, Alvin Untermeyer's Pharabang and Log Cabin Stud's Chuckatuck.

Just as Chuckatuck started off the meeting on Long Island with a winning effort, so did he close it, and in doing so, he won by far and away the best contest of these closing days. The 'chasing game is fascinating and exciting enough when good horses are running single file, but when a foursome hooks up in the final mile, all running closely bunched, in two head-and-head, then spectators rise to their feet and roar. So did the big Belmont stands, jammed to the guards for the closing day and Whirlaway, reverberate with "wild yelling" as Jockey Penrod booted the Log Cabin color bearer, the son of The Nut—Laughing Laura, home by a neck. Thomas Hitchcock's Narum, in 3 lbs. heavier at 145, gained the place by 3 lengths from Mrs. J. C. Clark's *Little Cottage II.

Chuckatuck, a very much improved horse this year under the training of Oleg Dubasoff, (he got a very interesting trainer's double this day, when Lazy F. Ranch's Nearsight came home in the 7th event, a mile on the flat), led the parade in the 2 mile 'chase for all but a moment. Mrs. Reginald Sinclair's Yemasee went to the front at the outset, was in the place position at the 8th when he lost Jockey Riles. Every horse in Wright received a special cash award of $2,000, in addition to the superb gold trophy which the Westchester Racing Association always provides for the victor in this event.

Whirlaway's winnings, exclusive of special awards of the kind mentioned, trophies, etc., which under the rules of racing cannot be computed to his credit save "on the side," now reach $158,836 for 1941 and it may be asserted with confidence that no other thoroughbred of any age or sex has any chance, even a fighting one, to outrank him as the leading money-winner of the season.

The majority of the year's richest prizes are now behind us and they have been distributed among horses, aside from himself, that have done little otherwise to distinguish themselves, nor do they promise much more later on.

To the contrary, Whirlaway still has before him the Classic, to be run next month at Arlington Park, Chicago, worth $37,935 to the winner last season, and the American Derby, to be run in August at Washington Park, Chicago, worth $44,900 in 1940.

Both these fixtures, at this writing look to be mere canthers for him; nothing in sight seems able to give him any real contention.

During the rest of the campaign there is no other 3-year-old event worth as much as $20,000, on the basis of last season's values.

In consequence, once the Classic and American Derby are put behind him, the present conquering hero will have to content himself with flying at comparatively small game unless he goes outside his own division and tackles the aged horses; or—a rather unlikely prospect—some later 3-year-old development should provide a foreman worthy of his steel.

Rarely indeed have our 3-year-old stakes flattened out so dismally as those of the present year of grace.

The promoters of those still to come are pardonably trying to create some excitement about them; but unless the scene changes very rapidly—and very startlingly—they will have to work hard to attain their object.

About the only thing they will have to offer in order to lure the public in large numbers will be the opportunity to see just Whirlaway.

Simply him and nothing else.

Because, truth to tell, nothing else seems to be worth seeing!

and the filly, although not in particularly full flesh, was of good size and nice quality. Judges Edward Cheston and Colonel Merchant then gave her the championship juvenile award open to winners in the half-bred and thoroughbred yearling and two-year-old classes with reserve going to Wishitookit, a roan gelding of Meadow Lane Farm's, by *San Ular out of Crystal Dawn.

The open jumping classes were not noteworthy for the performance of Captain J. G. Minniece, Jr.'s Trail Bird, a Remount horse that Captain Minniece bought as a two-year-old when stationed at the Remount at Fort Robinson, Nebraska. This is a nice, bay thoroughbred by Sullivan Trail out of Bonnie Bird and shows the advantages of careful schooling at the hands of one good horseman. Trail Bird took the working hunter class over an outside course of eight jumps and was awarded the blue over some of Mr. and Mrs. George P. Greenhalgh's noted Springsbury show horses, Ginnico, the big chestnut by *Gino—Sunayr, Brown Bruin, now belonging to Mrs. George Greenhalgh, Jr., the grey gelding Royal Rebel by *Royal Canopy—Superanna and Merry Prince the Meridian—Fairy Legend that was one of the earliest winners of the Springsbury string. Captain Minniece then rode Trail Bird to a win in the touch and out, took second in the handy hunter and third in the Master's Trophy over the outside course, a general hunter class for performance, style and way of going. Ginnico won this class for Mr. and Mrs. Greenhalgh with Shirley Payne up and second was Alexander Mackay Smith on his well known half-bred point to point winner, Bayard who took the heavy-weight class at the Piedmont Races two years ago.

The third horse to stand out at this one-day show in the grove on the Gerard B. Lambert estate was Looter, chestnut gelding belonging to Mr. and Mrs. George P. Greenhalgh. Looter is a son of Hi-Jack out of Cassie and was bred in Kentucky and bought by the owners of Springsbury Farm at Saratoga as a yearling. Mr. and Mrs. Greenhalgh, who are just back from Devon triumphs with the reserve hunter championship and many good performances by that great pair of half-breds, Billy Do and Big Boy, consider Looter the best prospect they have ever developed and well he might be. He is a truly fine show type. A big, strong horse now in perfect bloom, with a great front, clean strong legs somewhat on the short side that gives Looter the appearance of standing over a lot of ground, and big, well-rounded quarters. Otto Furr remarked that the horse was one of the most likely show winners that had been seen in Virginia for some time. This year he won the junior championship at Lynchburg as well as the junior championship at Stuyvesant School Show in Warrenton. If there had been one offered at Blue Ridge he would most certainly have deserved that as he took the middle and heavyweight green hunter class, the thoroughbred three-year-old class and was given second in the handicap to Mr. and Mrs. Greenhalgh's Port o'War, the full sister to Sallyport and the fourth of the get from Springsbury's best producer, Port-rush. Port o'War is by War Hero and received his winning ride at the hands of Shirley Payne who has won the handicap class at Blue Ridge four separate times, once riding for Mrs. Whitney's Llangollen stables and the other times up on Springsbury Stable entries.

The show opened in the morning with the breeding classes and a convincing win by Rokeby Stables in the broodmare class. In a group of 9 matrons, Mr. Paul Mellon's mare took one, two and three. First with Ruella a 9-year-old mare by Horron—Rural; 2nd with The Nun a half-bred and 3rd with an imported mare, *Makista who is by Viviani—Floret. Rokeby Stables were given second in the foals of 1941 with a colt by Tourist II out of *Makista. They were beaten by Mr. and Mrs. Greenhalgh's Annapolis colt out of Kentmere Girl, a former *Teddy mare of Kenneth N. Gilpin's Kentmere Farm. An exceptionally fine looking half-

Mrs. Emory G. Alexander.

Eighty five horses and ponies were entered and eighteen classes were run with precision thanks to Sergeant Morano, as able a ringmaster as the circuit can boast.

The blue in child's hunter was bred was that of Mrs. Amory Perkins who scored a blue in the halfbred 3-year-old class. This is a brown gelding that was purchased at auction at Warrenton and bred originally by the Horse Shoe Farm of Rapidan, Virginia. He was a big, rugged, almost ugly colt when first acquired, and then like so many of these ugly ducklings, he grew up to himself and acquired the size and strength that some of the perfect yearlings never do attain.

The Blue Ridge Show was blessed with a perfect day and the going on the lush green turf that is probably 150 years old was at its best.

captured from 39 entries by June First, a stunning young mare owned by Archibald J. Kingsley of Bethlehem, Pennsylvania, and well ridden by Roderic Butler of Allentown.

Twenty six entries filled the corinthian which also went to June First, thus earning for her a leg on the Ely Bowl.

Eight hunt teams, properly turned out, thrilled the big gallery with their uniformity, pace and performance and a popular blue went to the Barratt boys.

First honors in horsemanship were accounted for by Betty Anne Levis while a leg on the coveted Brookfield Challenge Trophy was gained by Irene Randal and duplicated the honor she gained last week, on children's morning at Devon, as champion rider of the show.

At intermission Mrs. Jay Cooke, Nina's gracious mother, entertained the judges and a few friends for luncheon, at "Brookfield" their lovely home in Chestnut Hill.

Archibald J. Kingsley's June First, with Roderic Buller doing the mare great justice throughout, won the championship. Miss Flora Van Selver was an owner-up on Rip Wave to take the reserve as Henry D. Barratt rode his own Little Bits of Stony to the pony championship and Miss Irene Randal her Dapple Gray to the reserve.

Beagles

By EDWARD M. WARD, JR.

Hunting Beagles Or Harriers From Horseback Is Done Frequently In Many Countries

In June it is rather hard for us to think of beagling—harder than in July when the Nantucket Harriers begin sending in reports of their early morning fixtures. Of course, though they are called harriers, the Nantucket are really beagles, mostly from the Vernon-Somerset. When Mrs. Trimpl, in the fall, moves down from Nantucket to her house in Pluckemin, not far from Vernon Manor, she exchanges her huntsman's horn for a little longer thong on her whip and does, mounted, a great job of keeping the Vernon-Somerset off deer for the regular season. Will Atkinson, the famous Vernon-Somerset huntsman, is mounted these days too, since a knee injury. The field and master, Richard V. N. Gambrill, still stick to their own feet and do very well, thank you.

Mr. E. W. Clucas hunts his White-oaks Harriers mounted too, with all his staff on horses as well. These are true beagles, but since most of the pack goes over the standard of fifteen inches it seemed better to call them harriers.

There are, however, two packs of true harriers—the Monmouth County of which Amory L. Haskell is master and the Mill Creek.

We intend, provided gasoline can still be purchased for pleasure vehicles, to visit both these harrier packs next season and report on

David Best Hunter At Charles County Hunt Horse Show

BY AMATEUR

Through blazing sunshine, occasional showers and sultry cloudiness the Spring Horse Show put on by the combined efforts of the Charles County Fair and the Charles County Hunt Club, held at the Fair Grounds below La Plata, Maryland on June 1, went on with no more than several minor accidents.

A splendid crowd eagerly watched the events; beginning with the pony classes where five year old Fritz Burkhart captured all hearts; right through hacks, hunters, and jumpers ending in the skyscraper jump that brought roars of applause and encouragement as Sand Rock, Good Friday, Midnight, Mr. Taylor and Highboy vied for place.

All through the classes we find David, a grand white with dapple markings winning classes, owned and ridden by Miss Jackie Warren. And what a horse! Unexcitable, reliable, and a neat jumper, making a picture as he went over the brush jump in the distant foreground with Miss Warren as nonchalant as any rider we ever saw.

The performances of Eileen Smith on Black Buddy; Hugh Wiley on the several horses of the Flir string; the Magill brothers, Micky on Highboy or Christy, Bucky on Lois N.; Buddy Conrad jumping his horse Midnight; and the outstanding work of Linky Smith on Sand Rock, Eddie Talbott on fractious Good Friday and Arnold Lusby on Mr. Taylor are woven together, with David and Jackie Warren still my favorites.

Mrs. Donald Bradley riding Nanette, Randall's Shadow, and Best Time placed first and third in the ladies hunter class, a grand horsewoman, who, as I overheard some one say, rides only once a week. Miss Florence Fitzgerald on Dan's Rock-sand did a sweet bit of riding and jumping winning a first and two fourth places.

Charles County may be proud of her native sons. This year ten local horses were entered, and the youngest of these owner-riders, Jimmy Wills Jr., carried off the honors for county riders by winning a 1st, 2nd and a 4th.

SUSSEX WINS MEADOW BROOK STEEPLECHASE AT BELMONT

Over the water in the 2-1/2 mile Meadow Brook 'Chase Handicap, Mrs. J. T. Skinner's MAD POLICY, Jockey E. Roberts up, was leading the 1st time as the eventual winning combination, Mr. George H. Postwick and his SUSSEX, #3 was well up. At the top of the fence, two of the country's greatest 'chasers are pictured head and head, as they ran much of the way in the Belmont Red Cross Benefit of last year, when Thomas H. Hitchcock's great grey *ANNIBAL beat OSSABAW, #1, by 1-1/2 lengths. In the Meadow Brook on June 3, Jockey Slate had OSSABAW in contention until his top weight of 163 beat him, finishing 4th.

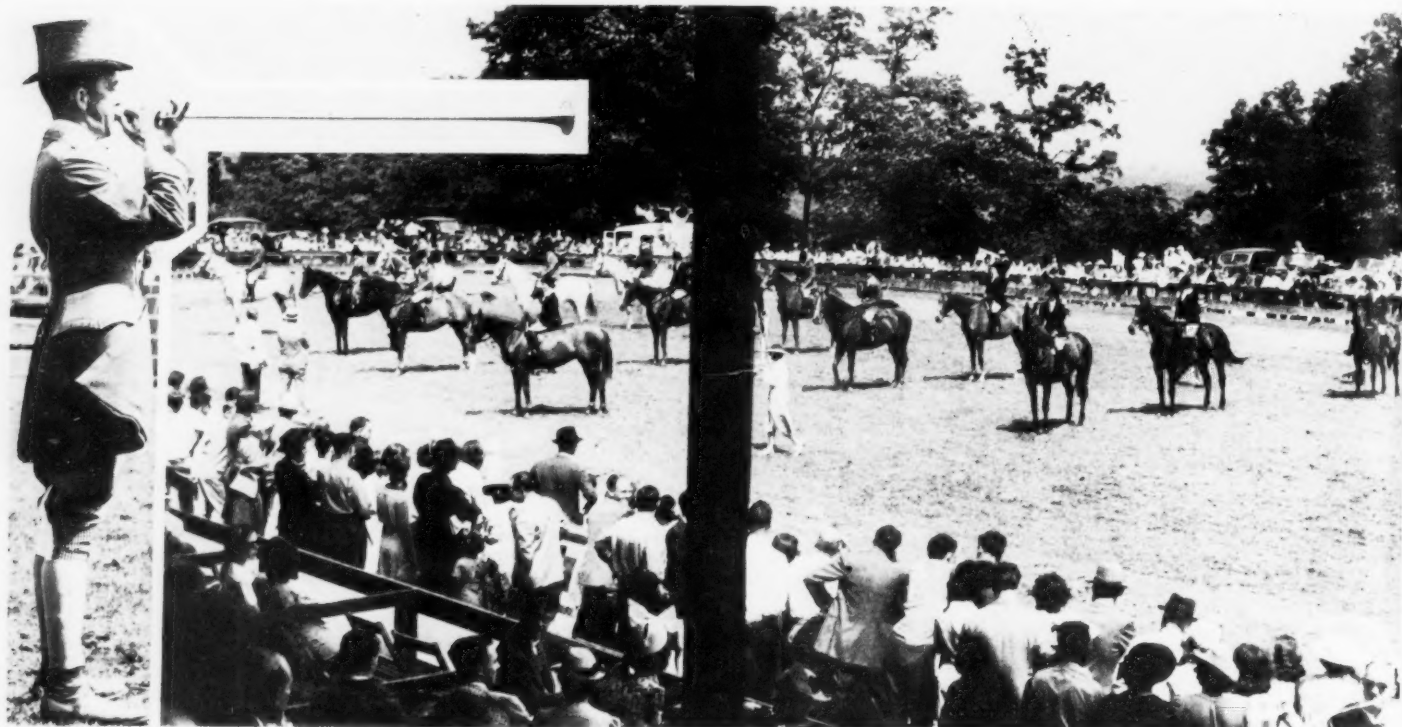

The 9th fence in the Meadow Brook proved fatal for *ANNIBAL. The great French-bred son of CHUBASCO, as brave a horse as ever ran through the field, had Jockey King up when he found himself in a desperate spot, the fence blanked out in front of him by SUSSEX, *LONDON TOWN and OSSABAW. A truly top 'chaser doesn't fall, except under such accidental circumstances. Never in 3 years, during which time *ANNIBAL had won the Belmont Grand National, the Corinthian, the Chevy Chase and the Manly Memorial had the Hitchcock color-bearer been down, only once losing his rider in the Georgetown at Delaware Park. Pictured above is OSSABAW, with Jockey King sprawled beyond; Jockey Bellhouse and *LONDON TOWN, just missing *ANNIBAL and Jockey Penrod and E. B. Schley's *DOLLY'S LOVE rising to the fence. So serious had *ANNIBAL hurt himself that it was necessary to destroy him later that night, because of internal hemorrhages.

In the stretch, Mr. Postwick was really riding for the $6,700 Meadow Brook purse as *LONDON TOWN chased him. The noted gentleman rider is busy throughout the week training his horses, then promoting and playing high-goal polo over at his Postwick field on Long Island.

The line-up of the hunt teams for the P. J. Lawler Hunt team trophy. The Rolling Rock Farms winning team next to the extreme right, with the grey Sewickley Hunt team, placing 2nd, on the extreme end. Inset is Clarence "Honey" Craven, a pastmaster at sustaining the tempo of the show-ring and a veritable linguist on dialects, that every exhibitor can comprehend. "Honey" is at all the big outdoor shows also at the Garden.

The winning pair. Mrs. A. E. Reuben rode her Hasty House Farms' HASTY LASSIE with Miss Jane Flaccus' PRINCE DEVON, with John Beach up, to win the blue, when conformation and performance counted.

James and Barry Hamilton cleaned up for Dunnottar Farm at Sewickley. Above they are riding MOUNTAIN MUSIC and GAY. Miss Peggy Hamilton won important blues with her HUNTRESS as well.

William C. Robinson, Jr., secretary of the Sewickley Show, combined with William George, riding CAPTAIN KIDD and OUR CHANCE respectively and with young W. D. George, III on SALT and Alex Robinson, Jr., on PEPPER to win the family class.

Weighted Whips Common Practice Of Of Jockeys To Make Weights In Years Past

So successful were the spring meetings at Edinburgh and Pontefract that application is to be made for fixtures at both places for the beginning of July. In addition to one this month, Lanark is to have an August meeting, and it is hoped also to have Autumn racing at Pontefract. As it is impossible to race on Newcastle course it is probable that the Northumberland Plate will be staged at Ripon. Thus the north has a fairly liberal Turf programme in store if all goes well.

In the first event at Pontefract, Gordon Richards was for once undoubtedly 'caught napping'. He is not the first famous, experienced jockey to throw a race away. I am convinced he did so on Pennyruel, although his own version was that he could not get through. I may be wrong (and it is easy to criticise from the stands) but it is my opinion that Gordon made a mistake and I was not alone in this view. As it was Mr. C. Turner's Sybil Sherwood may have been a lucky winner. Mr. Turner is a Sheffield steel manufacturer.

Still speaking of jockeys, the successful apprentice F. Winter, made the mistake at Pontefract fairly common to apprentices. He carried his whip into the scale when weighing-in after finishing fourth on Hey Presto. Clerks-of-scales have to be watchful about this, for the rule that jockeys must not either weigh in or out with a whip was passed after there had been cases of fraud detected. Some winning jockeys rode short weight but drew the correct weight by means of a heavily loaded whip which was handed to them during the course of unsaddling. What brought the matter to a head and resulted in the rule forbidding jockeys to weigh in with a whip, was the case of Ellington's Derby. Aldcroft, who rode this winner, was able to draw his weight only by the aid of a 7 lb. whip, which he swore he had carried in the race. The late Col. Meysey-Thompson, who knew all the parties concerned, wrote to me many years ago regarding this incident: "Mrs. Danby Harcourt, wife of Admiral Harcourt (owner of Ellington and son of the Archbishop of York) was my god-mother, and I often stayed with her at Swinton Park, near Masham. Nobody ever doubted that there was a change of whips, and although this would be without the knowledge of the owner, the trick was referred to as a good joke. At a time when such practices were not uncommon, it was necessary to be as sharp as those with whom you had to contend on the Turf."

EDWIN B. KING, M. A.
Headmaster

As a matter of fact it was not until 1865 (nine years after Ellington's much discussed Derby victory) that the rule was passed: "In weighing-in before or after a race, no whip, or substitute for a whip shall be allowed in the scale".

In a recent successful prosecution for cruelty to a horse left out in snow without food, it was stated that it became so weak that hawks settled on the animal and tore pieces of flesh from its back. This allegation has caused a good deal of discussion and I must admit that I read the evidence with astonishment. During a period of severe wintry conditions, although many birds die of starvation and others are reduced to a state of incapacity, by very reason of this, hawks find their natural prey easy to secure. We know that carrion crows and some other predatory birds will attack dying sheep, pick clean the bones of dead carcasses, and occasionally peck out the eyes of weakly lambs. There are stories told of eagles in Scotland carrying off lambs in their talons, and of vultures in foreign countries following a wounded or sickly animal till it drops exhausted. I have never, however, heard of hawks acting similarly with any animal bigger than a hare; and what is more, none of those whom I have heard discuss the recent case mentioned, have any knowledge of a precedent. Most of us have seen rooks and crows on the backs of sheep, feeding, it is said, on the blood-sucking parasites known as 'ticks'. I have often watched to see if they actually do this but have never seen them make any movement which would indicate they were so doing. I do not suggest that the popular idea is incorrect. The hawk story, however, is less easy to believe.

ARGUMENTS ARE NOT FOR THE SHOW RING

There is one all important requisite to sport. It does not matter what the sport is, how it is played, where or when. All sport must be touched with the same brush, must have the same bright color. It is the true blue of good sportsmanship and without it, all sport, no matter what its excellence, becomes a travesty. Horse showing is a game that exacts an unusual quota of sportsmanship from the participants.

There is a lot of money involved in individual horses; there is even more time than money to make a good show horse because it takes years of breeding to secure perfection and it takes patience and skill to make the horse once it is bred. The horse itself is but a fraction of the battle, for horse showing is a sport in which the human element is at its most complex and success depends on all of its variables. There are nerves of the riders that are usually extremely taut; there are spectators waiting for thrills and spills; there are judges who have no set rule or code, nothing but their own individual judgment based on their own eye for a horse, their personal knowledge of a horse, their skill as horsemen, their ability to catch faults of performance that happen with lightning rapidity, faults of conformation, faults of wind, faults of movement.

It is small wonder that disputes have occasion to arise in horse shows and all there is to settle them is a book of rules by the American Horse Shows Association that cannot lay down laws for every exigency; that cannot possibly foresee situations arising from the interpretation or misinterpretation of those rules to fit incidents that can be as many as the movements of a horse itself; as frequent as the decisions a judge is forced to make on every entry into a ringside. What a job it is, showing horses, and what patience it requires from horses, riders, owners, officials, spectators! There is no tape for the horse to cross, no goal to reach, no knockout blow to be struck. It all depends on opinion, the opinion of horsemen who like the exhibitors, believe they know a great deal about horses but who cannot know everything for a horse's fascination to man lies still in the unexpected; he is an equation of his own whose responses are never identical, whose performances are as dependent on such variable factors as wind and weather as is the human element on humor, nerves and temperament.

An argument arose this year in the ring at Devon. It was a question of interpretation of the rules and it ended up, as all arguments will, with hurt feelings, a sense of indignation, a desire for justification. The important thing here is not so much the fact that the rules were difficult to interpret, that their construction was ambiguous, that the exhibitor with considerable justification believed in one interpretation of the rule, while the officials were quite certain of theirs; these things are completely unimportant before the one, all important factor; sportsmanship. Showing is a game. It is a difficult game. More difficult than any other, perhaps in which to show good sportsmanship, because of its very dependence on this human factor, this judgement.

In all such games, as soon as there is an argument, sport ceases, the game is done. There cannot be, there must not be, argument in the show rings. If exhibitors don't agree, they have got to argue their case afterwards. If officials don't like performances, they can talk to the exhibitor afterwards. If spectators are annoyed by what happens in the ring, they can express themselves in any way they want afterwards. When horses don't like jumps, they perform or leave the ring. Is there any reason why the human element should expect any more consideration than the horse who is providing the sport, doing 99% of the work; expending 99% of the effort. It is the horse's show after all. The rider is but a passenger. If the horse can perform without an argument, so can the spectators, the riders, the owners, the officials, so can everybody who has come to a horse show for sport's sake. There is only one thing more important than the horse and that is the sportsmanship displayed in the ring. As the season, with all its heartaches, all its disappointments, its thrills and its victories gets under way, let us all remember that good sportsmanship is more important than winning the game for good sportsmanship is the game itself.

READING SHOW

Olivette, some important ribbons, and in the hunter walk-trot-canter, her bay Slip Stream, by King Arthur, came off with the blue in a class of 21 entries, including Woodfellow, but Miss du Pont's First Call with Mrs. Fred Pinch up took 2nd under a fine ride.

The working hunters 1st went to Mrs. W. Standley Stokes' My Lady Luck, her son up, with Roselawn's grey mare Gala Gown, by *Tournament II in the red, 18 entries.

The jumper division indicated a real lepper in Kilarney Grey, a Virginia-bred 8-year-old grey gelding owned and ridden by Robert Young from Allentown, Pa., who unfortunately could not compete the 2nd day due to being called to the colors at Camp Meade. The Cavalry should find this young horseman.

Other good performances were given by Miss Betty Mills' Happy Landing; Jim Duffy on his Ten High; Capt Stauffer on his Cannabiss. In the pairs of hunters or jumpers abreast over 8 jumps in the ring, Alex Atkinson on Top Gallant and Bill Casson on Sir Rocko did a stellar job. Harold Leinbach's grey Cezare covered the time class circuit in rapid time.

Children's honors went to Miss Patricia Dowd's Lazy Bones and Thornecroft's Sweetheart. George Kingsley's June First gave a fine performance in children's hunters over the outside course.

had 15 points to *Dalchoolin's 14. Mr. Smith rode Ballela in every class, and Gordon Wright was on *Dalchoolin. This award also gave Ballela the Glendhu Farm Challenge Trophy, presented by Mr. and Mrs. Sydney Gilbert to the West Point Horse Show Association. It was offered for competition at Tuxedo with the consent of the donors and of the previous winner, because of the necessity for cancelling this year's West Point Horse Show, due to the national emergency. Ballela's winning it at Tuxedo will count toward permanent possession.

The jumper championship was won by My Play Boy, with 11 points. The bay gelding was ridden by his owner, 14 year old, Russell Stewart, of Albany, N. Y. Mrs. Elizabeth Correll's Lew Dunbar, ridden by Gordon Wright was reserve, with 9 points.

Martin Vogel's *Demas won the hunter stake, with John Maloney up. Muffin Man, owned by Bryn Dhu Farm, Granville, Ohio, and ridden by Bobby Coneen, placed second.

The Maclay Cup was won by Miss Margaret Haskell, Red Bank, N. J., with Miss Peggy Krout, Ridgewood, N. J. placing second, after close competition.

Court Ways, bay gelding, owned and ridden by Mrs. Edward Lasker, Port Chester N. Y. won the Slippery Slim Memorial Challenge Trophy. Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Hale's Uncle Whiskers took second. This is another of the trophies usually competed for at the West Point Show. The trophy was donated by Captain and Mrs. John K. Waters in memory of Slippery Slim, who was fatally injured in the 1936 Olympic Games. It was won in 1940 by Sundown Stable's Fitz Lee.

The Tuxedo Trophy, presented by Mrs. S. Sloan Colt, Tuxedo, N. Y. for amateurs' hunters, amateurs to ride, was won by Cornish Hills. Weather Permitting, owned by Allan A. Ryan, and ridden by Mrs. St. George Duke was second. Mrs. Duke won the trophy in 1940 with Fanette.

Great interest was shown in the military jumping events for the West Point Cadets. Cadet L. P. Collins won the Field Artillery Association Trophy, riding Scelasic, and Cadet T. J. Cleary was the reserve winner on Typhoon. Both cadets had won military jumping classes earlier in the day, riding the same horses.

Miss Elizabeth Hyland rode Mrs. N. K. Toerge's Camp to first place in the colorful corinthian class. There was keen rivalry in this class, and Miss Blanche Clark was second with Lord Britain.

Mrs. Correll's *Dalchoolin, reserve champion, ridden by Miss Marian Loucks made a consistent, smooth, performance to win the ladies working hunters. Miss Blanche Clark, up on her chestnut mare, Chestnut Leaf took second place, with a very good round.

Major Carson on Tarvia, owned by the West Point Horse Show Team was first in the class for officer's mounts. Country Girl, owned and ridden by Captain John K. Waters was a close second.

The judges of hunters and jumpers were, Major Gen. Guy V. Henry, Chevy Chase, Md., Mrs. Frederick Van Lennep, Bryn Mawr, Pa., and Rodger R. Rinehart, M. F. H., Charlottesville, Va. Major General Henry also judged the military classes, Mrs. Dean Bedford, of Fallston, Md. judged the horsemanship, and Mr. Edgar F. Powell, Bryn Mawr, the Saddle Horses.

Tuxedo's Horse Show drew many outstanding horses from as far as Virginia and Ohio. Many came up looking very fit with a week's good rest under their belts after competing at the Devon Show. The prize list was particularly well-rounded with three major trophies formerly awarded at the West Point Show added to the usual events. Twenty-six jumpers were vanned over from West Point, and the participation of their best cadet riders in their blue uniforms added greatly to the colorful atmosphere of the show.

The weather was more comfortable than at Washington, and the ring just about right, following a two days' rain. All jumper classes were excellently filled, about 25 to a class, while the hunter division drew a field that was tops in quality.

In the open classes the prize money was well distributed over a large field, and no jumper won more than a single class. Fourteen-year-old Russell Stewart of Troy, New York, made a spectacular showing with his three jumpers, and My Play Boy more than held his own, with the jumper championship and the $250 open jumper stake against some of the best open jumper stables. His My Play Girl placed third over the special course, without wings, and young Stewart was the main recipient, along with the West Point cadets, of the plaudits of the grandstand.

The omnipresent A. S. P. C. A. officials kept a watch on all polers, and exhibited less patience over the matter than they had shown previously, urging all trainers of jumpers to stop polling practices of every sort, or else!

Horsemanship entries were far too small. The good hands cup went to a New Jersey boy, William P. Dunn III of West Orange. The Maclay trophy was awarded to Margaret R. Haskell, who was credited with surmounting difficulties at the first fence. Seville Funk's excellent round on a strange horse was applauded, although he failed to place better than fourth. Dick Van Winkle won the other three major blues, which included the age class, the A. H. S. A. Medal, and the Eastern Saddle Horse Breeders' Class on his Meadow Sensation. Miss Lois Lisanti won the younger age class event.

Cavalry jumping honors went to Cadet L. P. Collins of Oklahoma, the champion, and Cadet T. J. Cleary of Pennsylvania, reserve champion.

While it is unfortunate that several long established shows have recently had to be cancelled, Tuxedo's show proves they can be combined successfully, and that contestants are willing to go a long distance to compete in attractive events.

Leaf Hanger Scores Hunter Championship At Lakemont Show

BY EDWARD DICKINSON

Lakemont proves a two ring circus!

That's not so much of an exaggeration, either, for the set up for the first annual Lakemont (N. Y.) Horse Show was two long, narrow show rings, side by side, and overlooked by one grandstand. Between the rings was a lane filled with chairs. Cars were parked at the ends and at the far side of the second ring, facing the two of them and the grandstand. From the ring nearest the stand a fence and a brush jump led to an outside course around the campus of Lakemont Academy on whose grounds the show was held, May 30. It proved a lively and mighty good show, but keeping two classes going on at once was a real task. Twenty-five events were run off between 1:45 and 6:45, with a goodly number of entries and a world of fine performances and really beautiful horses.

The hunter championship went to Dunwoodie Farm's famous Leaf Hanger by Espino, who was bred in Virginia and owned by Horace Mofett who sold him after winning the Upperville championship. Leaf Hanger was ridden by little Miss Florence Patricia Dunn who used him for the Maclay Trophy and A. H. S. A. Medal events, both of which she won by a wide margin. He was also 1st in lightweight and the ladies hunter event. Miss Elizabeth Glinther of Buffalo fared well, too, with her Sylvan Music by Harmonicon having 2nd place in the ladies' class, reserve championship, and 1st in the hunter stakes; while her Block Dale by "Rosendale II" had the 3rd in the ladies' class and 1st in middle and heavy weight hunters. (Both Sylvan Music and Block Dale were raised at the Leo Davin farm at Caledonia in the Genesee Valley.) Block Dale also won the green hunter class. Monica a daughter of Harmonicon, mentioned above, and now owned by L. T. Ballard of Elmira (N. Y.) was 2nd in the hunter stakes, 4th in the ladies' class, and 3rd in the light weights, while Bay Girl by Thunderation, also a Genesee Valley bred hunter, and now owned by H. G. Hubbard of Corning (N. Y.) had the 3rd in the hunter stakes.

Now for the jumpers: Lots of thrills all over the place with them—one rider off and out for some twenty minutes—then back on half a dozen horses and a fine collection of ribbons. Frederick K. von Lambeck's gallant 15:0 hand mare, Queen of Sports won the jumper stake and her owner rode Mrs. Robert A. Messler's Glen Oaks for the 3rd in this behind Dr. V. J. Levy's Vee Jay ridden by Frank Snyder. Glen Oaks won the triple bar class, and Donald C. Brown's Colleen O'Donaghue, ridden by Frederick K. von Lambeck won the open jumping. The amateur jumping went to Dr. V. J. Levy riding his own Hercules. Robert P. Mage's Har-

Uncle Whiskers Best At Horsemen's Assn. Fairfield Show

NEVA MINTON

The Fairfield and Westchester branch of the Professional Horsemen's Association of America held their 4th annual horse show on the Lawridge Stable grounds last Sunday, June 1. The size of the crowd, as well as the exhibitors, was considerably dampened by a steady downpour all morning which, if anything, improved the going. The resulting small attendance greatly decreased the returns to the British War Relief and the needy horsemen for whose benefit the show was held. This former Robert Law estate is one of the most perfect settings for a hunter show in the country and what it lacked this year in quantity, it made up in quality.

As no championships were awarded, the hunter stake, the last class of the show, was a fairly accurate mony, by Harmonicon, won the jumping championship on points and reserve went to Cecil Bronston's Copper King, ridden throughout the show by Miss Mary Spencer Kimball.

The Maclay Trophy Class was a completely clean sweep for Miss Patricia Dunn rode into the ring and did her stuff beautifully, while all other entries in the event had so much trouble getting their horses over the 36" course that the judge, Mrs. Henry J. Kimball, had them dropped to 24". There was one open horsemanship class, won by David J. Gleason, that proved really good.

Mrs. Kimball took plenty of time, had every rider ride some mount other than his own, called for figure eights, small circles, and serpentine lines. In this event the red went to John B. Deavitt Jr. of Rochester (N. Y.) and the yellow to William Bowman of Fairport (N. Y.) who did a good job, will do a lot better, and will learn in time to wear spurs right side up, at least, or better still, not at all, in a horsemanship class.

and just accounting of the judges' opinion and they awarded it to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Hale's bay gelding, the Virginia bred Uncle Whiskers. He defeated Mrs. Elizabeth Carroll's Dalchoolin with a performance remarkable for a 4-year-old and deserving of a champion. He also earned the hunter hack blue showing his splendid way of moving under saddle, and a 3rd in the green class, all under Joe Hale's management.

The big, brown Dalchoolin, ridden throughout by Gordon Wright, quite deservedly won the middle and heavyweight over Nydrle Stable's Chelsea Ruscus, and before this had just managed to beat out Martin Vogel's Fanette, one of the French subscription horses imported 2 years ago, for the blue in the hunters under saddle. He also won the model and 2 lesser ribbons in working hunter classes.

Mrs. Hale's faithful, chestnut mare, True Mark, would have been the next closest contender for the hunter title as she won the ladies hunters with a very suitable performance. She was 2nd to Percy Straus' Tompera in the lightweight and had another red in the working hunter stake.

Miss Dorothy Wahl rode her bay mare, June, to victory in the working hunter for the Professional Horsemen's Challenge Trophy over the Tipperary Stable's Clare's Toy, shown by the owner, Jack Prestage. June is now eligible to compete at the Garden for the championship of this class. The entry fees for this class at all the shows where this trophy, which was donated by Mrs. St. George Duke, is competed for, are donated by the shows to the Pro-

THE CUBS ARE GROWING AND SOON WILL BE RUNNING

Powell Thayer of Warrenton, Va., tempted this cub out with a pigeon. From his den he smelled the fresh blood and came out to investigate for himself. Mr. Thayer sat for many an hour with his camera, before he obtained this successful shot. Cubs are growing these days and soon will be giving sport on cubbing mornings.

Young Riders Offered Varied Opportunities At Many Classes For Junior Horsemanship

As the prize lists come in thick and fast, a few shows stand out as of particular interest to the younger riders for various events. In place of the good hands class the Ox Ridge Hunt Club Show in Connecticut offers a class for the best all around riders, placed just before the championship the last afternoon of the show. This is something new indeed. They stress the ability to ride both hunter and saddle seat, and a selected group will be asked to change mounts, those riding hunters to be put up on saddle horses, and vice versa, to demonstrate their ability to ride the two different seats.

The Metropolitan Equestrian Club Show on June 14th features close age divisions for contestants in both hunter and saddle seat, the ages being divided up to 10 years, 11 to 13, and 14 to 19. They also offer no less than five challenge trophies, including the Hochschwender Trophy for horsemanship over jumps. Juniors enjoy competing for such challenge trophies and they help immensely to build up entries from year to year.

The well-known Fairfield County Hunt Club's Horse Show in June, their eighteenth, is the best they have ever offered, we believe—(their young hunter division is perfect)—and is especially interesting from the horsemanship point of view. They inaugurate this year a local horsemanship championship for children of the ten adjacent towns, as well as the usual open horsemanship championship.

This seems to be a most commendable idea, for too often local children of ability are nosed out of championship classes by outside children who make the circuit and offer unbeatable competition. Yet the local children are always the main support of the club right straight through the year, and we think it is a splendid thought to give them the recognition of offering a local championship.

Apparently a great deal of thought has been put on perfecting the program, and we see evidence of much hard work on the part of Beaufort Buchanan, chairman, and Alfred Allen, M. F. H., who have gleaned many interesting ideas as they have gone about the countryside, judging at other shows.

These are all very interesting. However, our pet of all prize lists is a simple micrographed affair gotten out by a committee at Syosset, Long Island, which is putting on a show at the W. R. Betts estate for the benefit of the Red Cross. It is the farthest from the stereotyped of any junior show we have seen in years, and is crammed full of interesting classes. They seem to be guided by angels in avoiding boring classes and have tucked in most intriguing events.

In the first place it is really a Junior Show—all contestants must be fifteen or under. Then there are only 12 classes, the last scheduled to be run at 3:30, which means show. General Chamberlin was very impressed with the way the cadets from Western Military, located near Alton, Ill., rode. They rode green, young, horses and gave all the old timers plenty of competition in every class, which should be very pleasing to Captain Matt Kane, their former instructor, a graduate from the Cavalry School, who has now been called to active duty and was not on hand to witness his proteges' successes. The cadets recently put on their own show, laying out a tricky outside course at Alton, without wings, and more than held their own with invading competition.

BRIDLESPUR SHOW

Some 4,000 were on hand for the Bridlespur show which started promptly at 9 A. M. and wound up late, parents can collect their children when the show is over, after a day which does not leave them in a state of nervous exhaustion.

There is a bareback class, and a class 50 per cent horsemanship, 50 per cent the horse, for children under 10, to walk and trot only, offering a truly safe event for the younger children. For those under seven there is a lead line class, with special consideration to be given to the suitability of the pony to the rider, a point sometimes overlooked.

An entirely separate class is one called stable test. Now this is not any ask-and-run affair where the questions are hurriedly tacked on to performance, and the judge only has time to ask, "What's a snaffle?" and goes on to the next, but enough questions will be asked to find out what the children really know, and a trophy awarded to the winner.

They have a bareback jumping class where the riders change horses something even large shows don't attempt. It is to be judged on horsemanship only. Too many times these bareback jumping events are actually judged as an open jumping class, passing up the excellent opportunity to emphasize the horsemanship angle, for in jumping bareback any faults of form and style stand out particularly. There is no point in running it on the basis of who has the best horse.

Attached to the prize list is a pencilled sketch of a handy hunter course, a friendly gesture put in at considerable pains, no doubt. Again, the emphasis is on horsemanship over the handy hunter course, instead of time. At last here is one show where there will be no jabbing and yanking to get mounts over the obstacles to save five seconds. An event like this provides real interest, and in schooling for such a class children are bound to improve their riding ability.

A jumper sweepstake is offered for the last event of the day, with jumps at 3 foot eight, judged on jumping faults only, and when more than one horse has gone clean they are to jump again, instead of having the jump raised.

This is a thoroughly sound idea. Very often in local shows a number of ponies are entered who are splendid jumpers, but do not have the size to negotiate 4 foot jumps. Yet often these ponies are perfect mounts for children and thoroughly dependable for the sort of jump the children might encounter in the hunting field. With jumps kept at three foot eight they have a sporting chance.

Congratulations to Miss Phyllis Betts, president, and Miss Alice Babcock, secretary of this show, for presenting something that is a real contribution to junior prize lists.

after 8 in the evening.

The green hunters was an outstanding class, according to Miss Mary S. Pettus, who took part in the show, and was kind enough to send The Chronicle notes. Miss Pettus rode Walter Knollmann's Regalia, 2nd, in a splendid effort, to Gay Pete in the corinthian and took other awards with Knollmann horses. Robert W. Otto's Bucksaluz, a chestnut gelding who won the green and novice model hunters, when placed over Curtis Swift's Blue Grass, repeated in the green and novice when asked to jump, as did Blue Grass come up with the red again. There were many outstanding performances, with Stan Morse's Top-Hat well up, 3rd.

John Alan Van Raalte got rounds of applause when he rode his Princess Ida to win the open jumper event, and the trophy presented by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Cooper. This sparkling mare beat the show's reserve champion, Feather Rock. Princess Ida is all of young Mr. Van Raalte's making. No one else has ever ridden her. Feather Rock won the knockdown and out and the scurry, which, with his 3 points gained in his 2nd in the open jumping, was sufficient to place him the reserve. The green hunter Bucksaluz was next in point standing.

Bridlespur Hounds were exhibited, running a drag line, over the outside course and into the ring. The big crowd thoroughly enjoyed this impressive sight, with all followers wearing their corinthian attire, having just ridden in the hunt teams. Trails End Gay Pete and Gangster and Marceline R. Kaltenbach's Freeholder made up the winning team, when John R. Shepley's Sergeant, Mr. Knollman's Black Jack and Mrs. Arthur L. Hardin's Star Play were 2nd.

SEWICKLEY TRICOLOR

rule circumstance, arrived at championship recognition in most deserving form. The finely mannered grey, raised by the Pat E. Tabors, of Tabor Farm, Joplin, Mo., who as a 4-year-old was used as "the test ride" in the Garden for 27 young aspirants for the horsemanship blue, had his owner riding throughout and performed faultlessly in the final 2 days, when ring conditions improved.

William C. Robinson Jr., energetic secretary had gathered over 200 horses in the hunter, jumper, saddle horse and harness pony divisions. These had come from Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, New York, Pennsylvania and Ohio, for one of the most successful shows in history. The weather abated from a steady downfall the earlier part of the week. It was ideal over head all three days, and drying underfoot throughout, so that Friday and Saturday the ring was in perfect condition. On Thursday it was sloppy going in the ring, in which the committee most ingeniously arranges a variety of courses that the lack of an outside course is not noticeable. Original layouts of rustic jumps give demanding tests for hunters and jumpers. Some are with wings and some, for hunters, merely have small bushes at the ends of the jumps in place of wings.

Silver Play commenced his tricolor climb with a 4th in the model as judges: Christopher Wadsworth, of Kenmore N. Y. and W. Brock Fuller of Milwaukee, Wisc., put the well known Spanish Spear, 3-year-old champion of Virginia in 1939 up for the blue in the lightweights. The eventual reserve *Gone Away commenced his efforts with a 2nd in the local hunters the 1st day when Miss Helen B. Shaw rode her Gershwin to the blue, and then followed this up with a 4th in the thoroughbred lightweights when Hasty House Farms' Hasty Lassie turned in a priceless performance in the oozy going to gain the blue and Silver Play went unplaced.

The second day opened with the hunter hacks won by Spanish Spear as Silver Play was again left out of the ribbons. Then the contender *Gone Away won the local working hunters and Silver Play came into his own, in a ladies' hunter event, was easily the best and placed over *Gone Away as Miss Molly Hays rode the Rolling Rock Farms entry in priceless form.

On the final day Miss Rood arrayed herself in side-saddle habit and with a world in front of her, was undeniable in the ladies' aside. This was a good class with Spanish Spear, Miss Alice Walton up 2nd, Miss Betty Couzens' Repulsion 3rd, with Miss Margaret Cotter riding, and Mrs. William C. Stevenson riding Robert S. Waters well known Royalty II to the 4th ribbon. In the corinthian Miss Hays rode *Gone Away in brilliant form, sending him through the stiff in-and-out and then over the wall in effortless form, without so much as a short stride. Miss Rood, sending Silver Play as never before, demonstrated that the gelding had corinthian ability to go on, but had to resort to the whip through the in-and-out, which he accomplished likewise without shortening a stride. Still the judges preferred *Gone Away, who went on, on his own volition, and Rolling Rock Farms' *Rector, also with Miss Hays up, who went almost as well as his stablemate was put above the ladies' hunter Silver Play, despite his demonstrating such versatility, going from a ladies' way to a corinthian performance.

Miss Rood's great ride in the corinthian got her a 3rd and thus she rode Silver Play into the preliminary conformation hunter championship walk-trot-canter to take the blue and tie *Gone Away with 17½ points. Judges then considered the two on a conformation basis, and consistent with their original judgment in the lightweight model, when *Gone Away went unplaced and Silver Play took 4th as related, awarded the Delaware campaigner the championship. The decision was popular, giving Miss Rood one of her first major show championships in several years.

The jumper division was hotly contested. The consistent Crispin Oglebay Question was the winner on points, gaining 17 in his three days of jumping, with his usual rider Kenneth Winchell up. This was the last show for Question in the name of his owner Mr. Oglebay, in whose stable the likely and intelligent big chestnut gelding had been made and sent out to win national recognition from Chagrin Valley Hunt country. Miss Beverly Ann Brennan, of Bradford, Pa., purchased Question at the close of the show. Reserve jumper honors were won by Rolling Rock Farms' Melton II.

Over a demanding course Miss Evelyn Thompson rode her own Scattercash to win the $250 jumper stake, as another comparatively local horse, Dr. V. E. Beldham's Princess Pat took 2nd, with his owner up, and Miss Margaret Cotter on her Rocksie, up from Maryland, took 3rd. Question took 5th in this event, when he had 2 slight ticks but went as evenly as a hunter, never once breaking his stride.

The ribbons were well divided throughout the show. Mr. and Mrs. George Humphrey's Holiday Hill Farm, of Mentor, Ohio took a good class with First Holiday on Thursday morning. In the non-thoroughbred hunters, lightweight, Mrs. C. Snowden Richards' June Holiday was the winner, Belle Valley Farm's Bovard's *Killardi, winner of the novice hunter among other awards, took 3rd, and Miss Cherry Bakewell rode Miss Ethel L. Chubb's Manarue 4th. Manarue may be recalled as a starter in the memorable Raymond Belmont Memorial National Hunter Championship Steeplechase at Middleburg last April.

Manarue also placed 3rd in the difficult Stonedale Cup, for riders having hunted with a recognized pack in Westmoreland, Fayette, Allegheny or Blair Counties. This event named for Malcom McGiffin's famous timber horse, twice winner of the Llangollen cup, among other notable triumphs, was won by Reynolds W. Bell's Crotan, with Miss Cherry Bakewell up. Miss Phyllis Keister rode Miss Jane Flaccus' Senate Page to take 2nd and Miss Marietta Leonard was on Manarue. These riders had to be under 21 years of age. Miss Molly Hays had won the trophy in 1940, at both the Allegheny Country Club Show and the Rolling Rock Hunter Trials.

Dunnottar Farm ponies swept through the junior events on Saturday morning, with Jimmy and Barry Hamilton riding the ponies under 14.0 hands and Miss Peggy "Pickens" Hamilton scoring with ease on her Huntress. Jimmy Hamilton won the hearts of all with his splendid rounds on his Grey Knight, a spectacular performer, this grey pony moves and jumps like a thoroughbred.

In several classes Rolling Rock Farms' Taffy, young Richard K. Mellon Jr.'s pony, was well up, pinned 2nd to Mountain Music ridden also by Barry Hamilton. At the end of the show Mr. and Mrs. Mellon purchased Mountain Music that with Taffy these two young ponies, (3 and 4-years respectively), would make a well matched bay pair for their son and daughter.

Johnny Lawrence, who won the hearts of all at Sewickley last year when his Tommy Tucker jumped all the fences cleanly, but stopped to nibble at the brush ones, led his little brother in the lead line class on Tommy Tucker to take 2nd. Miss Althea George led on Grey Knight was the winner. Grey Knight then returned into the ring to take part in the junior hunters against horses as big as 15.2 hands, and with Jimmy Hamilton up, beat them all. Miss Sue Hays rode Miss Katharine Walker's Lawn Fete for the red ribbon, and Miss Isabel Streeter took 3rd on her Lochinvar, later taking the junior touch and out on this same mount.

Miss Rood also had considerable success with her Carrighatar, stablemate of Silver Play. This striking 3-year-old son of Constitution won the suitable to become 3-year-olds in hand; took 2nd to Spanish Spear in suitable hunters; and then beat many older horses, 4-and-5-year-olds, in the green hunters, when he had but one slight jumping fault.

The hunt teams was won in a fine performance, Rolling Rock Farms' *Rector, Dr. Grey and *Gone Away, in order, with Billy Bayle, A Fletcher and Tom Spinx up respectively. The Sewickley Hunt entry took 2nd and Crispin Oglebay's entry was 3rd, which included the versatile Question, Lou Collister up, enrolled with Mrs. Arthur Laundon on First Holiday and Ken Winchell on Mrs. Laundon's Sand Artist.

first puzzling as the angles upset the spacing. The hard baked clay footing was a trying test as to soundness, but otherwise it was a nice setting and fine weather for a mid-south June horse show.

The four open-jumper classes, held at night under adequate flood lighting, were all won by C. V. Henkel's brown Tarboy, ridden by Ed Daniels. This automatically fixed the championship of this division, but it was well earned as in the knock-down-and-out he was forced to jump 6'-0" to beat Mrs. Whitney's Bonne Nuit, ridden by Roland Ridgeway. This 7-year-old stallion could do no more to earn his board as he performed consistently in both hunter and jumper classes and is at stud as well. The reserve championship went to Mrs. Whitney's First Night, ridden by Norman Haymaker, with 2 seconds to his credit, 1 in the stake and another in the touch and go. He also won the scurry with a brilliant, fast performance over Star Rod.

Another horse successful both as a hunter and open jumper was George Lee's well known bay horse, Lee's Birthday, who was 3rd in the touch and go after jumping off with the 2 top horses. Under Alex Calvert's handling he was also 2nd in the corinthian over the reserve hunter champion, Balkonian, ridden alternately by all 3 of the Hills good jockeys, Miss Sue Fuller, Dicky Kelly and Delmar Twyman, and got almost as many ribbons as Inky, the outstanding being his win in the middle and heavyweight over Mrs. Whitney's The Bear. He was also named the model of the show over The Bear and Mrs. Douglas Prime's *Ballsbridge who was 3rd in this class.

Shown again by Alex Calvert, the chestnut Irish *Ballsbridge won the green class with a good performance and displaying good manners and way of going was 2nd to Cherry Bounce, still another from the Whitney barn, in 2 hack classes. This horse, the winner of all the hunter type hack classes, has all the ability to show to the best advantage under saddle and is hard to beat for this purpose.

Among the interesting sidelights of the show was Alex Calvert on *Ballsbridge, a typical hunter type, in the gentlemen's horsemanship class for saddle horse riders. Even though the saddle horse judge, the Honorable H. C. Barham, gave the verdict on this class, Mr. Calvert's horsemanship stood out so far over the genuine saddle horse riders that he was awarded the class. Little Miss Eve Prime from Warrenton, riding her jumping pony, the 13 hand Spoogle Woogie, won the pony race over several larger ponies. Although she has ridden in many pony jumper classes, this was her first race and a very successful one.

speed on the flat. (The Hitchcock horses frequently run barefooted; they are seldom shod more than with plates behind).

Groton Stable's Amalfi and Mrs. Van Lear Black's Strolling On finished under a stout drive, the latter coming up fast at the end, to take the place and show, a nose apart, but some 15 lengths back of the eased up Lechlade who had run 3rd to Bladen and Amalfi at Belmont. It was highly unfortunate that Bladen had to fall. He had gone to the top at the 3rd fence, after Amalfi, with Jockey Maler up, had made the running over the 1st three fences. Bladen didn't jump well, he was sticking his toes in, being very careful and then putting in some bad ones, just as he did at Belmont, when he all but unloaded his same rider, who was thrown so far out of the saddle once that the reins went over Bladen's head and the *Sir Gallahad III son was ridden home with reins one-sided the last 3 fences.

Lechlade went up head and head with Bladen over the 8th and 9th, after Mrs. Arthur White's Roll And Toss and Amalfi who had made it 4 head-and-head over the 6th and 7th, dropped back. At the 10th, the Liverpool in front of the grandstand, Lechlade was carrying Bladen. They were running. Bladen, again attempting to be careful, put in a short one, went deep into the brush and over he turned. As he rolled, Roll And Toss landed against him and came down as well.

The race was just becoming a contest at the 10th. The unfortunate mistake put Lechlade 8 on top, uncontested and from there on he galloped with Amalfi the nearest, finishing gamely but pulling up lame. Lechlade, when free, leading by 10, put in a bad one at the 13th, after Tara's Harp had unloaded Jockey Rich at the 12th, concluding Mr. Clark's hopes of a double in the Maiden Subscription Steeplechases this year for which he had great justification, having had the imagination for the inception of these events in 1940. Mr. Clark's Bladen had taken home the winner's share of the Belmont Maiden 'Chase.

With Lechlade's Delaware Maiden 'Chase win and *Chaloner's Pimlico Maiden 'Chase win, Mr. Dubassoff has been most successful this season with his young horses.

There was some delay at the post, due to the circus horse antics of Strolling On, who stood on his hind legs and reached for the sky with his fore. Once sent away, the field quickly shuffled for places, rounding the turn to the 1st fence, where Amalfi went to the top. The Delaware Park fences take more jumping than those of Pimlico or Belmont, being bigger, with more roll and thicker in the top tending to make horses stand back further. The course is in ideal condition, the grass having been left long and a generous use of fire-hose sprinklers is made through the late afternoon and evening.

Mrs. Samuel C. Register's Big Severn carried top weight of the day, 157, to finish 4th. He was the lone 6-year-old in the race and preceded Edward Jenkins' Sunbee at the finish.

Due to the terrific demand for stables at Delaware, where the top flat horses and jumpers of America are now quartered, Mr. Dubassoff was not able to obtain stalls on the grounds. In consequence he shipped Lechlade down from New York for his Wednesday effort, the previous day.

The top horses of the country will compete there over the big stake course on June 18, in the $6,000 Georgetown 'Chase, again on June 25 in the Indian River, also of $6,000 and in the Vleam 'Chase of $2,500, and 2 1-2 miles, on July 2. There will be a 'chase a day the balance of the month.

essional Horsemen's Association of America.

In the open jumper division, Mrs. Elizabeth Correll's towering chestnut horse, Low Dunbar, was at the best of his form and ridden by Gordon Wright, could not be beaten in the three classes. It is a shame that he could not have had a championship ribbon as no more could be asked of any horse. Low Dunbar was loaned by Mrs. Correll to the United States Army Horse Show team for the last Olympics but due to the unsettled conditions, never went abroad. He was injured about a year ago but his fine record this spring proves his complete recovery.

F. J. Sheffield's Sheff's Pal, ridden by M. Howard, the champion at Secor Farms on May 30, could only be placed 2nd in the stake and 3rd in the open 4'-0" class.

Mrs. Correll's horses, with a total of 9 ribbons, were the largest winners of the show, although Mr. and Mrs. Hale followed closely, only one behind this total. All of these hunters and jumpers were judged by Thomas Asheton of Port Chester, N. Y., Mrs. J. C. Clark of Mount Kisco, N. Y., and Gerald Smith of New Canaan, Conn., with Mrs. A. B. Court officiating in the horsemanship division. Teddy Wahl of the Round Hill Stable in Greenwich was chairman of this well organized affair, with James Baffe, who rides for Percy Straus, treasurer, and Albert Isgate, who is with Mrs. King in Golden's Bridge, the secretary. No small part of credit for the ease and smoothness with which the show was run, goes to Mrs. Gladys Mooney, the assistant secretary.

Racing And Showing Provide Field Day At Brooke Johns

COURTESY WILLET LEACHE

It was a field day, a memorable Memorial Day, over at Brooke Johns' Farm, at Norbeck Md., on Friday, May 30, with pony classes, events for hunters and jumpers and the wind-up late in the afternoon, with the running of the featured Brook brush race and the Andrew J. (Cy) Cummings Memorial over timber. A big crowd came out and enjoyed the thoroughly sporting occasion, with every other man on the grounds, so it seemed, sporting corinthian hue. The genial host, Mr. Johns, ran the whole show from the roof-top of his house, with a broadcasting system, and all of his attendants in the show ring were garbed in scarlet blouses, with little black caps.

All classes in the horse show, held in the morning and early afternoon, were filled with keen riding owners and good conformation hunters. Miss Louise Randall, of the Monty R., Randall fame, rode Monty R's full brother, Sonny Boy, to win the ladies' hunters. Last year, as in other years, Monty R., took part, but he has been on the shelf since his Maryland Hunt Cup effort this year. In the knock down and out, it was Good Friday with his owner, Edward Talbert who came through last Friday. This consistent lepper bested a field of 16, including many well known ring stars of Maryland.

In the racing, the Brook was featured, 2 miles, twice around a big field, with some 14 jumps. Seven went postward with the crowd favoring Aubrey Fishback's Speed Demon, with W. Corum, the colored Virginia jockey just returned from a winter season of riding at Agua Caliente. This combination had won over the Manor course a fortnight previous and seemed the class. Going to the 1st fence Speed Demon was in the middle and he was completely knocked off his feet as another swerved across him on the landing side, giving Corum a smasher, sending him to the hospital.

From then on it was all the eventual winner's race with Boyd Keys' Locomotive with Henderson riding winning handily, galloping by 15 lengths as R. M. Guston's Worthful won the place and Mr. George Walker rode his useful hunting mare Metope to finish 3rd. Fox, Mrs. Frank McSherry's faithful Redland Hunt hunter was 4th with Mr. McKay up.

Jockey E. Grayson, colored, who it may be recalled was so game to hide broken ribs up at the Radnor Hunt meeting in Penna., last May 10, so that he could ride in two brush races, scored a double on the flat. First he was up on Mr. Fish-back's Subdale to win the Montgomery plate of 6 furlongs and he came through in the closing event to ride Speed Demon to the winner's share of the Lone Oak of 7 furlongs. Subdale ran 6 furlongs, it is said, in 1:13, up and down hill over turf, winning by a length from a field of 10. Mrs. Crompton Smith's Ole Grouch, with T. Bonner up, both in their maiden racing effort, was head and head with the winner for almost the whole way, then faltered to lose the place as Herman Bell's Star Turn was rallied at the finish. Ole Grouch ran wide and it was a blanket finish.

Grayson and Speed Demon, he had not used himself much in his fall at the 1st fence in the brush, so was put into the final flat race, were the best of a big field of 14 horses, all at catchweights, as were all the races of the day. Grayson got Speed Demon away smartly at the break and led all the way, with Mr. Keys' Osofree a strong contender throughout, but 1-2 a length away at the finish.

But 4 came out to run over timber in the Andrew J. (Cy) Cummings Memorial, 2 miles over some low fences. All were half-breds, with certificates from the masters of their hunts that they had hunted. William Carl's Sir Rowdy, with Mr. Dave Martin up was the winner. Mr. Keys' Stonewall finished 2nd, was faster on the flat, but propped over his fences.

In The Country:-

Johnny Harrison

One of the gamest and cleverest gentlemen riders in the 'chasing business is back in circulation again, after more than a fortnight in Baltimore hospital, where he was taken to, following a smasher at Pimlico on Don Roberto. Johnny underwent an operation for a blood-clot and came through as usual, 10 pounds the best. He is moving his string to Delaware Park for the 'chasing there, where he will have to let his activities suffice with saddling, possibly not getting up again until next spring. At present he is working hard in growing a new mane, roached for the operating table.

Felix's Clifton's Fairy

Felix du Pont Jr., who purchased Clifton's Fairy from Dr. L. M. Allen, following her timber racing career 2 years ago, and who hunted the mare, both in Virginia and with Vicmeade Hunt in Delaware, advises that a Bad Bill filly was foaled by the *Coq Gaulois mare the 1st week in May.

"Pokey-Nosed"

Entitled "Hunter Devils," the following letter is reproduced from National Horseman. "Dear Editor: I always maintained hunters and saddlers could not mix. After reading your April issue with Ted Mohlman's article "Shaky Devils," I know it. He is the most liberal minded hunter I know. Let us hope you do not spoil your fine magazine with articles on those pokey-nosed, sloppy going hunter devils that canter on any lead no matter which way they are going around the ring."—Helen M. L. Hall, Hinsdale, Ill."

Compact Scranton

Major Lee White, secretary and manager of the Scranton Horse Show, to be held near Scranton, Pa., in July, advises The Chronicle that the show this year will have a compact program, with all divisions worked into two days, July 12-13. It had been previously announced that this event would be a 3-day show.

Another in September

Vincent P. Lester, secretary of the Columbus Horse Show, has announced the dates of Sept. 13-14 for the annual fixture, to be held in the Meadowbrook Show Grounds, in Chevy Chase, Md.

The Ox Ridge

The Ox Ridge Hunt show always so popular with the hunter followers will be held this year on Friday and Saturday, June 20-21, immediately preceding the Fairfield County Hunt Club Horse Show at Westport. This gives 5 days of showing in the delightful Connecticut shore section. The Ox Ridge has full classification for working and conformation hunters and jumpers with $350 stakes in each. Judges will be Frederic H. Bontecou, M. F. H., Millbrook, N. Y., and George H. Timmins, Groton, Mass. Donald Scott Sharpe, N. Y., will score jumpers. Entries close June 13, with Arthur Naul, Mgr., 49 W. 44 St., N. Y.

Delaware Park Opens

Delaware Park opened on Memorial Day, May 30, and has its post time for its first race at 2 P. M. Standard time; 3 P. M. Daylight. There's a new dining terrace and roof-top promenade on the paddock end of the grandstand an innovation this year, following the aim of the Delaware Assn., to make Delaware Park "the public's racetrack." Delaware commenced its meeting with barns jammed and top class horses ready to contest for the $12,000 per diem distribution, in purse money. General Manager Edward Burke and Racing Secretary Edward J. Brennan and their legion of subordinates are hard at it. Whirlaway is eligible for the Kent Handicap, $10,000 event on June 14. Mrs. Payne Whitney, known for years as the "first lady of the American turf," leads all other ladies at Delaware, with 31 nominations in 14 stakes. Steeplechasers have arrived following the Belmont meeting. There's no conflicting 'chasing at Delaware.

Morven's Yearlings

Whitney Stone's Morven Stud, near Charlottesville Va., is grooming 16 yearlings for the Saratoga Sales. Seven of the lot are by Pompey, the jointly owned sire of Morven Stud and A. B. Hancock's Claiborne Stud. There are 9 colts and 7 fillies and here they are:

Eastern Breeders

In the eastern breeding contingent forwarding yearlings to Saratoga for the annual August vendue there are several from Virginia, with W. H. Lipscomb, Colin MacLeod, Jr., A. A. "Sandy" Baldwin, the gentleman-rider, the Herring Brothers, and others included. Mr. Lipscomb will offer a bay colt by *Quatre Bras II—Cinema by Sweep, the dam of the winners Tinema, Great Lover, Donald Duck and On Location, while Mr. Baldwin's lot will include two fillies, one by *Jacopo—Royal Chain, a *Royal Canopy mare and the other by Whichone—Sleek, an Ariel mare. From New Jersey, J. M. Roebing, who has Case Ace standing at his "Harmony Hollow Stud", will send two daughters by this young sire son of *Teddy—Sweetheart, by Ultimus.

Comedienne Takes It Easy

Mr. and Mrs. T. Beatty Brown's sensational timber horse, Comedienne, came out of an exacting timber season none the worse and is taking it easy in the fields on their farm at Upperville. Mr. Brown is planning to start the daughter of The Clown in the fall at White-marsh and then on to Meadowbrook and Essex.

Troop Changes

U. S. Randle, who sold his Ban-nockburn Farm, near Vienna, Va., and moved to the eastern shore of Maryland, inducted the Marching On Troop into his services at the Washington Show, when J. North Fletcher was sufficiently persuaded to discharge him from his string. With Frost Anderson up, Troop was the champion of the Wicomico Hunt and Deep Run Shows during the last 2 weeks and another of Anderson handling. H. Lay Phillips' Star News took the Wicomico reserve. Over at the Frost Anderson farm with Troop, near The Plains, Va., are Gee Ray Bee and Rascality, and this trio will be campaigned steadily through the summer for Mr. Randle.

Essex Puppy Show

The annual puppy show of the Essex Foxhounds will be held on Sunday, June 15th at 3 p. m. Kennels are at Peapack, N. J. where joint masters Kenneth B. Schley and Anderson Fowler have 40 couples of American hounds. A number of the puppies have been walked by members of the hunt and there is an exceptionally fine young entry to be shown. Mr. Fowler hunts hounds himself and provided excellent sport last year for large fields around Far Hills. Hounds have regular fixtures during the season three days a week from October to February.

Va., Commences Del.

It was an all Virginia combination which commenced the Delaware Park 1941 meeting in ringing form. Down the stretch the green and old gold polka dots, colors of H. Rozler Dulany, flew, carried by his Visiting Nurse filly, a 2-year-old daughter of Virginia's Strolling Player, the produce of Knight's Nurse, a matron daughter of the late *Bright Knight, a sire who also stood at B. B. Jones' Audley Farm, near Berryville. There was more Virginia in connection with the $61.80 long shot win of the Visiting Nurse with Jockey G. Smith up, as Dion K. Kerr, trainer, of Warrenton, like Mr. Dulany, also hails from the Old Dominion. The supporting feature was also won by a Virginia combination as T. Lee Evans saddled his Westnesia gelding, a Virginia bred son of Westwick, to take the $2,000 Memorial Day Handicap, in 1:45 3-5, slightly slower than the track record for this 1-16 miles, which Westnesia holds jointly with Rosenna at 1:43 4-5.

Russian Owner, American Horse

Alexis Sommaripa who some years ago built himself an attractive stone house on the edge of the Shenandoah River in Clarke County, Virginia furnished in the style of his native Russia, is an ardent horseman. Taking up riding only a few years ago, Mr. Sommaripa with the aid of books and practice made great strides, hunted with the Blue Ridge Hounds and this year rode in the Rokeby Bowl and took a smasher at the first fence. Falls do not stop this enterprising amateur. He entered his horse Tovarich in the Washington show two weeks ago, rode him Saturday in the Blue Ridge Hunt Show where he previously won the hunter class two years ago and came second this year in the touch and out. He talks volubly in Russian to Tovarich a bay gelding, by Kirkover—High-stepper, as they jump much to the bewilderment of one local Virginia boy who shook his head sadly as the foreign words poured out into Tovarich's listening ears. "That horse don't know Russian," the boy was heard to mutter.

4 Blues Gathered By Post Meridian In Long Green Show

BY WOOGIE

The weather has not been cooperating with the horse shows, but today they clicked; the ground was just right, not too hard and not too soft, the sky was blue, and the sun not only shone, but remained shining all day. At Baldwin, Maryland, on the estate of Stephen H. Palmer Jr., green and white flags were flying from the top of the judge's tent; inside the tent Paul R. Gable, and Ehrman B. Mitchell, M. F. H. of The Beaufort Hunt, Harrisburg, Pa., were the race took a crack at Chuckatuck, who proved his mettle handsomely, accepting every challenge with staunch determination. Last year he had the speed but couldn't stay. This year it has been a different story.

CHUCKATUCK

Mr. Hitchcock's Naruna was very much the best of the rest, twice being shut off at crucial moments when going to the winner. Little Cottage II, with 2 wins at the meeting, has stamped himself the most valuable $1,000 horse out this year. F. Ambrose Clark's Torturer was the other casualty, losing Jockey Bellhouse at the 6th.

Belmont's chasing was the best in years. The public has warmed strongly to the game there, wagering heavily on all contests and handing out responsive handclaps. The Belmont has done much for steeplechasing, driving it a long way into the public's heart and being ever thoughtful of the owners and trainers taking part. The one lone, but strong criticism, was the cutting of the infield grass—it was clipped too closely, making for slippery going and tending to let the sod dry out too readily.

all ready to judge The Long Green Valley Horse Show. This year marks the show's 18th birthday. Next to Doughoregan Manor, it is the oldest in Maryland. When I arrived I looked at my program, an especially attractive one this year, as sketches by Jean Bowman appeared on the cover and inside, Jean has just completed a portrait of the well known Maryland timber horse, Vaunt.

In the morning pony classes, each pony was determined not to let any other pony gain too many points, consequently different ones took ribbons in almost every class. His Majesty, owned by 7 year old Billy Howard, came in 2nd in pony hacks and pony jumping. Billy lives with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Howard and his little sister, Frances, on a pony farm in Howard County. He and his sister adore the ponies and learned to ride them at a very early age. Upon meeting him, he pointed to the two "reds" dangling from his lapel, and said, "Next time I will get a blue one".

The D. Sterrett Gittings class was won today by Hugh Wiley, making him eligible for the final class in the Fall.

Bart Mueller (huntsman for The Wythemore Hounds) in hunting "pink" stirred the horses with notes from his hunting horn, and they were all set to jump when they entered the ring. C. E. Lang rode his Post Meridian to victory in three classes, qualified hunters, knock down and out, and pairs of hunters along with Parson. Eileen Smith brought him into first place in ladies' hunters. Eileen's day, however, did not end as cheerfully; Dr. S. R. Graffam's Black Buddy missed the stone wall jump, in the handy hunter class, sending Eileen under his hoofs, the outcome of which was a bruised leg.

The course was very tricky in the handy hunter class, in fact, so tricky that Frances Gould took no chances of forgetting it, and planned a map of the course on Meribloom's mane. Inventors get busy! Here is an idea. How about a gadget of this kind? Seems to me that some of the gentlemen jockeys could have used a map to refer to in the steeplechases this spring. Mr. Charles Freeland's Mr. Lark walked off with the trophy, and Good News ridden by Bobby Rasche, was second, in spite of two interruptions, a noisy train not more than 100 ft. away and a plane overhead.

Upperville's Relief Ball

Buchanan Hall will be the setting for the Benefit of British-American War Relief Ball to be held at the conclusion of the Upperville Horse Show on Saturday, June 14. Music will be by Don Lane, and reservations may be made by calling Mrs. Richard S. Peach or Mrs. George Roberts Slater, co-chairmen. Invitations are in the mail and patronesses number some 32 well known members of the Blue Ridge, Middleburg, Orange County and Piedmont Hunt countries.

Greenville S. C. Show

Wednesday through Friday, day and night June 18-20 at the Manly Field, Furman University, the Greenville S. C. Horse Show will go, with J. T. Gordon, of Greenville, judging the hunters and jumpers and $3,500 divided up among the saddle, walking, hunter and jumper divisions. J. D. Massey is Sec'y.

Rolling Rock's

The Richard K. Mellons recently purchased the 2-year-old colt Coq de Combat for stallion duties at their Rolling Rock Farm near Ligonier, Pa. This striking grey son of Coq d'Esprit, a model of the *Coq Gaulois line, has French ancestry on his dam's side as well. Out of Mouchoir, winner of 3 races, by *Rire Au Larmes, his distaff side traces back to Rabelias, the No. 12 family. Untried, he will be used solely for sire purposes, merely broken to the saddle for exercise.

$500 In Benefit of Riding Trails

Wayne Dinsmore of the Horse and Mule Association who has devoted so much of his time to promoting bridle trails to encourage more people to ride, has just announced a $500 award for the best article on riding trails. There are to be 10 prizes starting with $100 to the author of the best factual article on riding trails. The prizes are to be awarded for the best articles appearing in newspapers between June 1 and November 1, 1941 serving the areas in which the article about the facilities for riding appears.

Bel Air Racing

G. Ray Bryson, general manager of the Bel Air Fair Association, which offers a 10-day race meeting July 23 to August 2 inclusive in Bel Air; advises that fields of 10 horses would be allowed to start in all flat races, with no limit being placed on steeplechase events. Eight races will be programmed daily by Secretary Eddie Brennan, who is now making up the fields at Delaware Park. Seven races will be on the flat, with the eighth being over the two-mile steeplechase course, Cumberland, which follows Bel Air, will also offer both steeplechase and flat races to its patrons. As a result, many prominent American owned jumping strings will ship in to this state following the sport at Delaware Park, thus being able to get in 20 additional days of steeplechasing.

Question's New Owner

Beverly Ann Brennan, of Bradford, Pa., negotiated with Crispin Oglebay, of Cleveland, following the Allegheny Country Club Horse Show in Sewickley, Pa., last week-end, when Question returned the tricolor for open jumping, and finally after many long distance calls, a bargain was struck. Question's diminutive auburn haired owner-rider "will look like a postage stamp on him, but I don't think she will have any difficulty handling him as he is as near perfect as an open jumper could come," said James "Ingle" Leyburn, the spirit of Bradford's Valley Hunt who assisted Miss Brennan in obtaining the celebrated jumper. Miss Brennan is well known in the Pennsylvania-Ohio-New York shows, winning many awards with her Fantasia, useful jumper.
